It Won't be 'Only Me' at Rhonda Vincent and Gene Watson's Mill Town Music Hall concert, as the First Three Sold Out

Enjoy these legendary bluegrass and country musicians on Friday, March 4

BREMEN, Ga. (Jan. 26, 2016) – “The Queen of Bluegrass” Rhonda Vincent and iconic country vocalist Gene Watson return to Mill Town Music Hall on Friday, March 4 at 7:30 pm EST. Concert goers will be entertained by two great vocalists, as they sing from their own music collections, as well as from their successful album they recorded together in 2011, Your Money and My Good Looks. Mill Town Music Hall focuses on wholesome, family-friendly music and events and is located conveniently off I-20 in Bremen (1031 Alabama Avenue).

Opening the concert will be the junior and senior division champions, Dee White and Lauren Glass, from the BRIDGE Fest West Georgia SingOff competition held in Bremen last year.

With five Grammy nominations and eight consecutive wins as Female Vocalist of the Year from the IBMA, Vincent has one the most awarded voices in bluegrass. Her music is known for incorporating savvy contemporary, while pulling from traditional classical bluegrass. Vincent has a group of world class musicians who play along with her. Only Me, a two-disc combination project, reached Number One on the Billboard Bluegrass Charts and was nominated for a 2015 Grammy. Also in 2015, her Christmas CD, Christmas Time, reached Number Two on the Billboard Bluegrass Chart and number 26 on the Country Chart.

Known as “The Singer’s Singer,” Watson has one of the most masterful voices in the country music industry. His powerful multi-octave range voice allows him to sing some of the most challenging songs with an ease. This comes from pure, natural talent, as well as many years performing onstage. Watson released his first single at the age of 19. Over the years, he produced six number one and 23 top ten hits. Even though he has been in the industry for over 30 years, his last album My Heroes Have Always Been Country was released in 2014. This year he will release his next album, Real Country Music.

Tickets for Rhonda Vincent and Gene Watson are $35 for “premium reserved” and $30 for “reserved” in advance.
